Portuguese Language

Why learn Portuguese?

Among many other reasons, these 3 confirm Portuguese as a multicultural, intercontinental and multifunctional language:

- Portuguese is a language spoken by more than 260 million people on five continents. In 2050 this number will reach close to 400 million Portuguese speakers according to United Nations.
- Portuguese is spoken by 3.7% of the world's population, and it is the most widely spoken language in the southern hemisphere.
- Portuguese is the 4th most spoken language in the world as a mother tongue, after Mandarin, English and Spanish.

Portuguese for Foreigners - Level A2 (Premium)

The A2 Portuguese for Foreigners Course is designed for people looking to increase their knowledge of the Portuguese language. As a distance-learning course, it gives all foreign learners the chance to study Portuguese and learn about Portugal and its culture, particularly those who until now wouldn't otherwise get such an opportunity. The course adopts an intercultural approach based on teaching and learning as a way of examining students' knowledge of themselves and others. Teaching and learning is a way of promoting the Portuguese language and culture and a means to gradually increasing multilingual awareness across different cultures.
