

Supervisor Insulation

Delfzijl

Do you have experience in managing insulation work in an industrial environment and do you have result- and service-oriented attitude? Then we are looking for you!

What are you going to do?

As a supervisor insulation, you are the link between the project leader and the foreman. You are involved in the organization and preparation of the insulation work on site. You ensure that your team can perform optimally and that the necessary materials are used as efficiently as possible. You manage your team in a coaching and guiding way, work together with your colleagues and other stakeholders and support the project leader with various tasks.

What are you responsible for?

- Continuous monitoring of progress and safety, quality and productivity during the execution of the work;
- Coaching leadership of foremen and insulation technicians;
- Preparation of the insulation work and giving instructions;
- Ordering materials, monitoring the stock and timely signaling deviations;
- Ensuring a correct and timely project administration;
- Improvement proposals in the field of safety and cost control;
- Signaling and reporting of additional and reduced work;
- Communication with the customer about the planning and execution of the work;
- Coaching and supporting (apprentice) insulation technicians;
- Measuring prefab for insulation jobs;
- Advising and improvement proposals for existing insulation in factories.

What do you bring?

- Education in (mechanical) technology or engineering;
- Relevant experience in coaching and leading a team in an industrial environment;
- VCA VOL and other relevant courses;
- Command of the English language;
- Perseverance, drive, communication skills and flexibility;
- A driver's license B.

What do we offer you?

- Salary according to collective labor agreement Metal and Technology. Insulation company;
- Variable bonus of 10%;
- 25 vacation days;
- 13 ADV days;
- Training and development opportunities;

- Personnel fund;
- Participation in Pension Fund PMT;
- A pleasant and motivated team;

Where are you going to work?

Altrad Services Benelux is a leading industrial service provider. More than 10,000 professionals worldwide support the needs of clients with a coordinated range of tailor-made solutions around Access Solutions, Insulation, Tracing, Painting and specialist services such as Asbestos removal and Rope Access.

Altrad Services Benelux offers a pleasant, no-nonsense working environment with an informal working atmosphere, where responsibility and independence are keywords. The primary and secondary employment conditions are good, they fit the position and are in line with current market conditions. We offer you excellent career opportunities.

Interest?

Are you interested? Send your CV and motivation letter to work@altrad.com.

Acquisition as a result of this advertisement is not appreciated.