1) INTRODUCTION

Looking for jobs in Norway requires at least good English skills – but in many cases Norwegian skills, and then a good dictionary or translation tool.

A useful brochure to read is "New in Norway". It contains lots of valuable information about the public services in Norway (moving to Norway, children and schools, health, taxation, etc)

Formalities

The official guide Work In Norway gives you a step by step guidance for your formalities when working in Norway: recognition of your education, taxes, social security, and more.

The labour market

Population: 5 435 536 pr 30th March 2022

Developments in the Norwegian economy

The Norwegian labour market has recovered fully after the downturn due to the Covid-19 pandemic. The unemployment rate is very low (2,1% in May 2022) and the demand for workers very high.

What is the demand for workers?

Tourism and hospitality: cooks and chefs; waiters/waitresses; bartenders; hotel workers; both permanent staff and seasonal staff (summer and winter)

Construction and civil works:

Carpenters; electricians; drivers of construction engines and cranes; roofers; plumbers; welders
Engineers (water and water treatment; civil works: roads, tunnels, bridges, railway and building; HVAC).

Transport: lorry drivers C and CE; bus drivers D and DE

Health care: nurses and specialized nurses (theatre nurses, intensive care nurses ...); doctor specialists (mental health, substance abuse treatment, oncology, neurology, rheumatology, internal medicine, radiology...); pharmacists; optometrists.

IT: professionals within software development/ system development; digital communication; information security and computer security; data analysis; AI; machine learning; service design.

Services: Car mechanics, heavy vehicle mechanics, construction engines mechanics; machine mechanics

NB! Please note that many of these professions require a good knowledge of the Norwegian language, especially those which require a contact with customers, clients or patients.

Looking for work

We recommend that you register your CV on the EURES portal www.eures.europa.eu, where Norwegian employers are likely to be looking for European candidates.

Where to find the jobs

The easiest way if you don't speak Norwegian is to search for jobs on the EURES portal www.eures.europa.eu. Indeed, all the job vacancies published on the national NAV job portal are listed on this portal. You can then use the search function in your own language and access the job vacancies. Check first the job vacancies "with EURES flag", it means that the employers are actively looking for European candidates to these jobs.

You can also access the job vacancies in English which are listed on the NAV job portal.

If you understand Norwegian, you access most of the job vacancies in Norway on the NAV job portal www.arbeidsplassen.no.

Recruitment agencies

The private recruitment agencies have a big share of the job market in Norway, and there are numerous. You should consider registering at a few of them. A few examples:

www.manpower.no

www.adecco.no

<https://www.randstad.no/>

www.jobzone.no

<https://www.experis.no/>

There are many more recruitment agencies, you can find them via the Yellow Pages www.gulesider.no. Write "bemanningsbyrå" in the search field.

Trade Unions and professional bodies

Trade Unions and employers Unions are very present and play an important role in the Norwegian society. And they can be a good source of information about the job market, working conditions, salaries etc. in their respective branch or sector. You can find them in the brochure "New in Norway" in the chapter "Trade unions".

The largest trade union is LO www.lo.no/english.

The largest employer's union is NHO www.nho.no/en.

When you find a job, it is recommended to apply for membership in a trade union (many workers in Norway are member of a trade union). You can ask on your workplace which trade unions are relevant to you.

Applying for a job

You can either apply for advertised jobs or send open applications to targeted employers. Both are common in Norway. It is indeed important to send open applications as many job vacancies are not advertised on the traditional job databases. Use the business directory Yellow Pages www.gulesider.no to find companies in the professional categories most relevant to you. You can search by using keywords in English.

The golden rule when applying for a job is: 1 application for 1 job. You should indeed always match your application, your CV and your skills & competence to each single job vacancy or each employer you apply to. Avoid using a standard application letter. When sending an open application, always check the employer's website to match yourself to its activities/products/services.

You will see that most of the job ads are in Norwegian – it is the national language - but you can use a translation tool (egs. google translate) to get an idea of the job. Then you can apply in English, as most Norwegians speak quite good English.

It is not common in Norway to mention the salary in the job ads, that's why you won't find much salary information.

In each job ad there should be the name of a person to contact at the company/employer: use them! If you have questions about the job, the salary or possibilities for accommodation, don't hesitate to contact the person mentioned and ask him/her – even before you apply. This will also allow you to check if the job is interesting for you, if you are qualified for the job and if the company seems interested in receiving your CV.

When applying for jobs, you might experience not getting an answer from the employers. In that case, you should call or mail the employer/recruiter. We recommend anyway that you always follow up any application you send, either just after the last date of application (søknadsfrist) or about 8-10 days after having sent your application. Use this follow up to get information about the appreciation of your CV to such and such job.

Use also LinkedIn and Facebook, as many Norwegian employers are present there and use these social medias to recruit.

Important

Remember to bring along to Norway all your certificates of education and work, translated into English or –preferably- Norwegian.

Recognition of higher education and qualifications; regulated professions

NOKUT www.nokut.no/en is the Norwegian authority to contact for the recognition of foreign qualifications in Norway.

There are 4 main types of recognition:

- ✓ higher education (Bachelor, Master, Ph.D.)
- ✓ vocational education and training
- ✓ tertiary vocational education
- ✓ teacher qualifications – school and kindergarten

NB: about 180 professions and crafts are regulated in Norway, which means that you must obtain an authorisation to practice your profession or craft to be work as such in Norway. Check if your profession or craft is regulated in the “List of regulated professions” on www.nokut.no/en.

Examples of regulated professions and crafts: electrician; crane operator; forklift truck operator; health care personnel; accountant/auditor ...

2) Example of a CV when applying for jobs in Norway

General rules on writing a CV

A CV should not be more than 1 page long, if possible.

No photo required, unless stipulated in the job ad, but otherwise allowed.

Do not use sentences, but bullet points, to describe your work experience or studies/trainings.

Translate abbreviations or shortly describe what they mean, unless they will not be understood by the recruiter.

Mention the website of your previous place(s) of work, so the recruiter gets an idea of where you have worked / what you have worked with.

Mention 1 or 2 references at the bottom of the CV. References – with full name, professional role, e-mail and/or phone number – should be able to speak English or a Scandinavian language in case they are contacted by an employer/recruiter.

NB! Electronic/digital CV and applications are more and more common. You might need a translation tool as the application form is often in Norwegian.

Application letter

The application letter should be typed and be approximately half a page long (no photo). Think about the following:

- Read the job vacancy carefully, and make sure you respond to what it asks for.
- Your letter should explain why you want this specific job. Describe your motivation for applying for this job, and why you want to move to Norway.
- Make it clear to the recruiter that you are familiar with the company, the required qualifications and especially how your skills and qualifications match the job or the company.
- Send your application by e-mail or as required in the job description (for eg. digital application)

Example of a letter of application for a job as a lorry driver.

Sir, Madam,

I refer to your job vacancy for a lorry driver published on the NAV website www.arbeidsplassen.no.

As you can see from my attached CV, I am a professional lorry driver, with the proper vocational certificate, and furthermore ADR certificate. I am very fond of my profession, that I discovered during my military service. I have driven both nationally in my country Ireland, but also, for the last 3 years, all around Europe. I consider myself a reliable person, eager and serious at work and very social. Because driving is not only sitting at the wheel, it is also meeting the customer at the end of the trip. And that is a part of my job that I enjoy very much.

I was on holiday in Norway last summer and really enjoyed the country, and especially the roads without too much traffic! That is why I would like to work in Norway. Furthermore I heard that Norway needed lorry drivers.

I know that the weather conditions can be harsh in Norway, but having driven many times over the Alps and around Eastern Europe, I am quite used to it. I am working in Ireland right now, but I can leave my job with 2 months notice.

Do not hesitate to call me if you have any questions, or to call Mr. Kenny, my boss and referee mentioned on the CV.

Looking forward to your answer,

Best regards

John Jobseeker

3) LEARNING NORWEGIAN

We strongly recommend that you start learning Norwegian as soon as possible. Not only will speaking Norwegian considerably increase your job opportunities, it will also be very important for your social life and your integration in Norway – no matter how long you intend to stay. Furthermore, getting a social network could also increase your chances to find a job. Many people indeed find a job through personal contacts.

www.ntnu.edu/learnnow (free of charge)

www.migranorsk.no

www.fu.no

Many municipalities in Norway provide Norwegian language courses. These courses are payable. To find the website of a municipality, use this template www.nameofthemunicipality.kommune.no. For eg., the website of the municipality of Oslo is www.oslo.kommune.no.

You can find other approved providers of Norwegian language courses in Norway on the official website for adult learning Skills Norway.

Useful tip: when in Norway, practice your Norwegian skills actively by meeting people, participating in your local community or join local associations or clubs.
